

HUMAN RESOURCES MANAGER

The company is already well structured, and in need of this important full-time figure. The right candidate will need to acquire all the recruiting, evaluation and management methodologies in order to re-evaluate them and redefine the exact internal roles and positions for both the technical side as well as the managerial one.

The candidate will be responsible for the following activities:

- Establish a good working relationship with all the employees to ensure their satisfaction on the job through periodic scheduled interviews;
- Bring personnel problems to the owner's attention, and establish strategies for both recruitment and work well-being;
- Make an assessment of company software for personnel management, their real effectiveness and possible replacement for more advanced solutions;
- Control and management of employees' access that are currently in the the Zucchetti App.

Requirements:

- The candidate is required to have proven experience to operate as a Human Resources Manager in a small-medium-sized company, between 60-80 employees;
- Advanced communications skills will also be required to communicate to staff as well as to manage the entire internal communications of the company.